There is a common remark made in the Crow's Nest Pass to this effect: "Nobody in the Pass, Harvey Murphy included, would prefer living in Russia to living in Canada." Well, why do people fall for their "guilt"?

The Quebec government has decided to aid weekly newspapers with a substantial subsidy, according to a news item in the Calgary Albertan. Quite a number of Alberta weeklies could stand some financial aid.

FUNERAL OF MOSES JOHNSON

VERY LARGELY ATTENDED

The funeral of the late Moses Johnson, mines inspector, took place on Sunday afternoon last, and was one of the largest attended in the history of The Pass.

A representative of The Enterprise took it upon himself to count the cars actually in the procession, and counted 112, besides which there were fully twenty gathered in the vicinity of the cemetery that did not fall in line.

Funeral service was held in St. Luke's church, conducted by Rev. A. S. Partington, at 3 p.m., following which the cortege wended its way to the cemetery, where last rites of the church, coupled with the last rites of Masonry, were administered.

Floral tributes were beautiful and so numerous that special vehicles were necessary to convey them.

At the church, splendid tributes to the deceased were given in an able sermon by Rev. Partington, followed by two renditions by the Blairmore Male Voice Choir, entitled: "In the sweet bye and bye" and "Saint Sylvester."

The choir was under the leadership of Mr. T. S. Beynon.

Deceased was a member of Rocky Mountain Lodge of the A.F. & A.M., and members of that order were in charge of funeral arrangements and attended in a body.

The mines branch was represented by A. E. Millar, chief inspector of mines, and Inspectors W. Healey, Calgary; James Richards, Edmonton; A. Hunter, Drumheller, and J. B. deHart, Lethbridge. The B.C. mines branch was represented by Inspector J. McDonald and J. Pucky, mine rescue superintendent, Fernie; Alberta Workmen's Compensation Board by J. McDonald, of Calgary; the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Co. Fernie, B.C., by B. Cochrane, superintendent at Michener Collieries, and H. Mair, Fernie, B.C.

Those acting as honorary pallbearers included Geo. Kellock, Coleman; J. McDonald, Fernie, B.C.; L. P. Robert, Blairmore; Sam Moores, Coleman; James Richards, Edmonton, and Gordon Steeves, Blairmore.

Pall-bearers were chosen from intimate friends and associates, and included W. Healey, Calgary; Wilfred Goddard, Blairmore; J. O. C. McDonald, Coleman; D. Rees, Blairmore; F. W. Utley, Bellevue, and J. Ironmonger, Hillcrest.

The Crow's Nest Undertaking Co. conducted the funeral. Chief mourners were a sorrowing wife, three sons, Frank, Cecil and Ronald, and one daughter, Lella.

A Call To Citizenship and Humanity

With the approach of winter in this country, located in the northern latitudes where winter weather is rigorous and prolonged, numerous organizations supported by thousands of warm-hearted and generous men and women are actively interested in the welfare of other thousands of their fellow citizens who are in difficulty and distress, lacking adequate shelter, clothing, food and fuel. These various organizations, each in its own field, are making appeal to the whole citizenship of Canada to come to the aid of all those who are in need of assistance. The press, the pulpit, the public platform and the radio are all enlisted in promoting this humanitarian work, and all of these agencies are gladly extending their services.

It is the interest, the sympathy, the generosity, the sacrifice of the individual citizens that is now required. Whatever opinions may have been held by many people in the past as to whether or not they were their brother's keeper, surely there can now be no two opinions as to the responsibility of each citizen for the welfare of other citizens. Duty to oneself and one's own family remains as it always must, remain, but the formerly entertained conception of that duty has narrowed during recent years, while one's duty to others has greatly widened. Past selfishness is the cause of much of the suffering and loss of today; more unselfishness and the larger patriotism is the universal call of duty to-day.

Because of continued unemployment everywhere, and the plight of so many people in Western Canada, especially in south-western Saskatchewan and in portions of Manitoba and Alberta because of another extensive crop failure due to drought, the need for extending assistance to thousands of families is as great as in any preceding year, and in some respects even greater.

Governments, acting on behalf of all the people, are shouldering the major problem. They are mortgaging the future in order that people may survive in the present. It is the only thing to do, it must be done, and is being done. To Governments must be left the responsibility and duty which is theirs, but as Premier Bennett stated in a recent address in support of the various charity drives now in progress across Canada, Government relief efforts, no matter how extensive, can never take the place of the human touch provided by private social welfare agencies. As a result, the responsibility on those in position to contribute to the assistance of the needy is greater than ever in these times.

It is gratifying to note that appeals being made are not falling upon deaf ears or stony hearts. At the time of writing this article no less than 227 railway cars of produce, fruit and vegetables, have been voluntarily contributed by people in the eight other provinces to the drought stricken areas of Saskatchewan, and additional cars are being provided every day. Churches, service clubs, the Red Cross, Community Chest organizations, and groups of public spirited men and women in cities, towns and villages all over the Dominion are at work, and the rural districts unaffected by drought are nobly responding.

But, as always, there are many who remain wrapped up in their selfishness, but who at a minimum of personal sacrifice could and should make substantial contribution to the needs of others. Too many people who are still in fairly comfortable circumstances consider themselves hard-up, and say they cannot make contributions which they ought to make simply because their incomes to-day are reduced from what they were a few years ago. In those better times they were not called upon to give in proportion to what they had, and they are not called upon to give in proportion to-day that need does exist, and it is their duty to respond to present appeals in still larger measure than formerly out of the incomes and reserves they still possess.

Our whole citizenship has a duty to perform because of our relationships to our fellow men. If that duty is not fully and even gladly met, then our much vaunted civilization is in jeopardy and will crumble in ruins. Therefore, in every community no matter how small where an appeal on behalf of the needy is made, and regardless of the organization that may make the appeal, or the nature of the appeal, it is the duty of every citizen to be a cordial welcome extended to those who are giving of their time and energy in promoting the success of the appeal, and the most generous response possible consistent with one's own actual needs as these may be seen and understood in the light of the actually desperate needs of others.

Praise Canadian Actress

Norma Shearer Is Complicated For Her English Diction

London drama critics are complimenting Norma Shearer, Montreal screen star, for her English diction.

When it became known a United States motion picture company was filming "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," some fans wrote to the newspapers suggesting the king's English probably would be mangled by the American actress chosen to play the difficult role of Elizabeth Barrett.

Then the picture was released in London, with the Canadian actress portraying Miss Barrett. The critic for The Daily Mail suggested in his column that Miss Shearer's accent should be studied by some of the British stars.

Learning To Fly Again

Colonel Bishop Is Making New Acquaintance With Controls

There is a pleasant tinge of surprise in the report that Colonel W. A. Bishop, the Canadian airman who destroyed a large number of enemy aeroplanes during the war and was awarded the V.C., is now learning to fly at Montreal. Apparently the colonel was one of those who returned from his victories more or less to his Sabine farm. It is said that he has not taken a machine in the air since 1922, and he feels that somebody had better be looking over his shoulder while he comes to terms with the controls again. Well, it is a wise bird that knows when to return to the nest.—Glasgow Herald.

Shooting The Fog

Secret Chemical Makes Air Clear In Few Seconds

Lightning raids on fog are foreshadowed by a secret chemical to which a trial was given recently. When a typical pea-soup specimen loomed up, engineers, having mounted their "guns," an array of centrifugal pipes, responded thirty feet horizontally above the ground fired streams of this liquid into its midst.

In a few seconds a clear path was blown in the gloom, and while the chemical attack lasted, every fog particle, as it came within range of 2,000 feet, was brought to earth in the form of water. It is anticipated that aerodromes will be among the first to install this new fog-clearing equipment. Already thousands of pounds are expended annually on special fog signals and guidance signs.

There are very definite indications in your writing that you have a rare talent for artistic work. Some of my correspondents ask should they take up art as a career, and I am forced to advise them against it. But in your case, I can very earnestly suggest that you can take up drawing as a career. This does not mean, of course, that you are to give up your present occupation at once.

What do you advise? I am a stenographer, but simply defeat the life. I am unhappy and feel that I am wasting my time. I have dabbled a bit with painting and drawing, and have been able to make a little extra money now and again in this way. What do you advise?

A Disagreeable Forecast

U.S. Expert Not Optimistic About Weather Of Future

If you ask J. B. Kincer, United States weather bureau official, to guess what the weather will be for the next 25 years, he'd say: "Colder and wetter."

Kincer, chief of the climatology division, told the Cosmos Club at Washington, there is good reason to suspect the United States (perhaps the world) is on the threshold of a change of climate.

For the past quarter century, he found, the world has had increasing warmth and decreasing rainfall. Records of periods before that show cycles of rising and falling temperature and rain lasting about the same number of years, he said. He believes another turn of the weather time may be imminent.

World's Noisiest Bird

Cockatoo Can 'Draw Out' Dozen Motor Car Horns

The scream of the peacock can be heard a mile away, but the noisiest bird in the world is the cockatoo. A single bird can make a din which would drown a dozen motor car horns and dim the sound of a steam whistle. The bull-bird of Brazil is runner-up to the cockatoo. This white bird is about the size of a pigeon. It lifts its head in the air and makes a noise that sounds like the bang of a hammer on an anvil.

The month of October seems the end of harvest in the northern hemisphere (Northern Canada, Alaska, Northern Russia, Sweden, Finland, and Norway) and the beginning of harvest in the southern hemisphere. November is the harvest month of Peru and South Africa; December of Burma and Argentina, the harvest of the latter being carried on throughout January, which is also the harvest month of Uruguay, Chile, and Australia.

Pays Tribute To Explorer

Sweden Opens Museum In Memory Of Professor Andree

Sweden remembered Prof. Salomon August Andree, famed Arctic explorer, again on the 80th anniversary of his birth.

A new Andree Museum, containing diaries, photographs and numerous relics of his ill-fated balloon expedition, was opened, as the drama of the finding of his body, 33 years after he and two companions floated away to the North, was recalled.

Andree and the two men who died with him, Nils Strömberg and Knut Franke, will be given formal burial sometime this winter in the North Cemetery at Stockholm. They were cremated after their discovery in 1930.

Automobile tires nowadays commonly run from 15,000 to 25,000 miles, compared with 3,000 to 4,000 miles, which was the life of a tire before the war, says a British writer.

Brasils, with an area of 3,176,358 square miles, has a population of 29,000,000.

FEAR OF WAR HAS A STRONG GRIP ON FRANCE

Paris.—Allegations of Germany's increasing military might intensified the war scare gripping France.

In great measure the fear of conflict, which overshadowed All-Saints Day pilgrimages of the French people to the graves of their war and civil dead, was based on belief the approaching plebiscite in the Saar might set off an international explosion.

For the first time since the war, the French apparently were not so confident of the crushing superiority of their army, leading minister of war, Henri Poincaré, to seek urgent reinforcements for the nation's weapons of defence.

Violent reaction in the German press to the announcement that French troops are ready to enter the Saar, if the League of Nations commission governing that region calls for help was described in high quarters here as clear indication that the Nazis have been thinking of seizing the rich industrial area.

The Saar basin, now under League of Nations mandate, will vote January 11 whether to remain under league rule, rejoin Germany or unite with France.

Rumors of an impending Nazi push in the Saar were followed by an announcement that French garrisons along the border were ready to move, and an official government newspaper in Berlin warned that the French "are playing with fire."

Nothing To Conceal

Britain Prepared To Give Every Assistance To Arms Inquiry

London.—The British government, having "nothing whatever to conceal," plans to give all factions opportunity thoroughly to air the international arms traffic situation.

A statement Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald made in the House of Commons indicated Great Britain, several of whose armaments firms were mentioned in the Washington arms inquiry, is desirous of having the entire situation searched and reviewed.

The prime minister's declaration that the government has "nothing whatever to conceal" followed hard on the heels of assertions by Sir Bolton Eyres-McMurray, first lord of the admiralty, that allegations that Vickers-Armstrong's British munitions firm had a "friend in the admiralty" were untrue.

For Another Speed Record

Malcolm Campbell Preparing Bluebird For Trade At Daytona Beach

London.—The remodeled Bluebird racing car which Sir Malcolm Campbell expects to take to Daytona Beach, Fla., early in January for another assault on his own world speed record of 272.108 miles an hour is rapidly taking shape in his workshop on the outskirts of London.

Although declining to reveal the scope of the alterations until they are completed Sir Malcolm, who is 49, told the Associated Press the new Bluebird would look "quite different" from the old.

"I have real hopes of beating the present record and possibly exceeding 800 miles an hour."

Trade With Newfoundland

Tariff Reductions Have Good Effect On Trade With Canada

Ottawa.—Tariff reductions announced by Newfoundland's commissioner of public utilities will, it is anticipated, have a beneficial effect on Canada's trade with Newfoundland.

In the three months ended June 30 of the present fiscal year, Canada exported merchandise to the value of $1,633,425 to Newfoundland. Exports of wheat flour, totalling 73,116 barrels, were valued at $296,106. Imports from Newfoundland during the same three months amounted to $197,367.

Flight Is Postponed

Dublin.—The attempt of Col. James C. Fitzmaurice to establish a new flight record to Melbourne has been indefinitely postponed. The plane, the "Irish Swallow," was made ready for return to the factory in the United States for alterations. Eric Bonar, co-pilot, will return with the plane to the factory.

Probe Munitions Sale

British Government May Investigate Private Manufacture Of Arms

London.—The British government has decided to establish an inquiry into the private manufacture and sale of war materials, it was stated in political quarters. Official confirmation, however, was lacking for the present.

The Daily Mail said the government's decision was partly a result of the senatorial inquiry at Washington and also partly because of a drawback in the disarmament conference.

It was believed the government also would propose other nations join a conference to discuss the manufacture and exportation of arms with a view to securing a convention establishing international control.

Such a conference, it was suggested, might take the place of the disarmament conference.

Announcement that these steps have been determined upon, it was stated, will be the government's answer to labor's demands in the House of Commons, and suggestion of the admiralty for an independent inquiry into the placing of contracts for naval construction.

Completes Long Flight

Melrose And Hanson Reach Melbourne On November 1st

Melbourne, Aus.—C. J. Melrose, the solo flying Australian, and Lieutenant M. Hanson, the Dane, both had completed the London-to-Melbourne flight Nov. 1st, coming in seventh and eighth, respectively.

When Melrose buzzed between the pylons at Flemington race-course his reputation for coolness was considerably enhanced. Tagging behind him came the tale of how when he was lost 18 miles from Charleville he landed and hailed a passing motorist seeking directions.

"It's a casual customer all right," said the motorist later, adding his verdict to that already expressed in England a month ago when the flyer stepped from the cockpit after an eight day and nine hour flight from Australia with as little ostentation as if he had made a hop from the nearest airport.

Urges Development Of The Tourist Industry

Director Of Canadian Travel Bureau Addresses Boston Club

Boston.—Development of the tourist industry between Canada and the United States can "forge a new instrument for peace" between the two countries, said D. Leo Dolan, of Ottawa, in addressing the Canadian club of Boston.

Mr. Dolan is director of the recently-established Canadian travel bureau; and he urged an ever increasing tourist traffic between the United States and Canada.

The people of the United States had spent on travel last year "the astounding figure of $5,000,000,000," said Mr. Dolan, stressing "the great need of reciprocity of travel between the United States and Canada." Last year, he said, estimates showed Canadian travellers spent approximately $40,000,000 in the United States.

Sedition Measure

British Government's Intention To Disaffection Bill Subject To Change

London.—The government's intention to disaffection bill passed through report stages in the House of Commons but several amendments were written into it during the brief two-day debate.

An amendment by the labor opposition providing a search warrant should be issued only by a high court judge and not as originally proposed in the bill by two magistrates, was accepted by the government. A further change was made when the government accepted an amendment providing no prosecution could take place without the consent of the director of public prosecutions.

The bill purports to check distribution of seditious literature among the forces of the crown.

The Pae, Man.—More than 200 persons from the mining camps of the north and the cities of the south crowded the rooms and corridors of the community building to attend the first criminal sessions of the court of the king's bench ever held in 'The Pae. Mr. Justice J. A. Adamson, Winnipeg, presided. There were 15 charges and nine indictments on the list. The charges were read out at the strike at Pin Flon on June 30.

Baptize Quintuplets

Ceremony Is Performed At Age Of Five Months And Two Days

Calander, Ont.—Solemn ceremonies of baptism of the Roman Catholic church for the Dionne quintuplet sisters were performed at a private service at the Dafoe hospital. Rev. E. T. McNally, parish priest of Corbett, officiated.

The ceremony, performed five months and two days after the babies' birth, was a simple one. It was witnessed by members of the families of both Mr. and Mrs. Olivia Dionne, the parents, and others, including Molese Legros, father of Mrs. Dionne; Miss A. Dionne, sister of Olivia Dionne; Dr. A. R. Dafoe, the attending physician, and five god-fathers and godmothers.

PRIME MINISTER ANSWERS LETTER OF HON. STEVENS

Ottawa.—Suggesting that the memory of Hon. H. H. Stevens with respect to events leading up to his resignation as minister of trade and commerce, was "at variance with the recollection of my colleagues and myself," Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, in a letter, expressed the opinion no useful purpose would be served by further correspondence.

Mr. Bennett's letter was in reply to that sent him by Mr. Stevens in which the latter stated at some length his criticism of the prime minister and his colleagues, and dealt particularly with the communication sent him accepting his resignation.

The prime minister's letter to Mr. Stevens was sent to the former minister following a brief session of council, and a short time later copies were made available to the press.

In the meantime rumors circulate twitly of impending cabinet changes but no announcements in this respect are anticipated until the return of Hon. R. J. Manion, minister of railways and canal.

Mr. Bennett's letter follows:

"Dear Sir: "I received your letter of yesterday in due course.

"As you resigned as minister of trade and commerce and chairman of the royal commission, rather than resign, as proposed, the amicable discussion with your then colleagues, which, by consent, was adjourned on Thursday last, when all the relevant papers to which you refer were available to you, no useful purpose could be served by anticipating parliamentary discussion and continuing the correspondence with respect to events of which I think it proper to state that your indicated memory is at variance with the recollection of my colleagues and myself.

"Yours truly,

(Sgd.) "R. B. BENNETT."

New Locks Opened

Hatton, Warwickshire.—A new boat was given inland waterways in England when the Duke of Kent opened the new locks on the Grand Union canal between London and Birmingham. The ceremony marked the completion of a $5,000,000 improvement which began in May, 1931.

SCORES VICTORY

Herman Treile recently scored another wheat victory—but this time against the elements. Poor weather conditions played havoc with crops in the Peace River district around harvest time, but they descended upon Wembley, too late. Mr. Treile had completed his harvest.

Bright Students

Third Grade Pupils In Toronto Schools Can Answer Questions

Toronto.—Two Toronto senior third grade public school classes claimed marked superiority over similar bodies in London, Ont., when several students correctly identified Prime Minister R. B. Bennett and Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn of Ontario.

Major R. J. Blaney, of Wilkinston school, said 15 of 33 pupils in the senior third grade of his school knew R. B. Bennett was prime minister of Canada and that 23 of the same group could identify Premier Hepburn. Twelve others had heard of Mr. Bennett but could not describe his office, and two appeared never to have heard of him.

Ten students did not know who Mr. Hepburn is.

Seven knew "Dizzy" Dean was a baseball player, five knew he played for St. Louis Cardinals, but the remaining pupils had never heard of him.

In a North Toronto public school, 12 third grade pupils correctly identified Mr. Bennett, five described him merely as premier, one as "governor of Ontario," two as prime minister of Ontario, one as "secretary" of Ontario and one as "president of Canada."

Will Claim Damages

American Flyers, Detained In Persia, Want Compensation

Calcutta, India.—John Wright and John Polando, American flyers in the Melbourne derby, who were detained near the Persian border for more than 24 hours, said they intended to claim damages from the Persian government.

After stripping their engine, they were amazed to find a faulty cylinder was not cracked, as they first believed, and they may now continue the abandoned flight to Melbourne. Otherwise they will sail from Bombay for London, November 10.

Their purpose in returning to London is to discuss their detention in Persia with the air force committee.

Discuss Meat Imports

Britain Submits Memorandum For Future Discussions With Dominions

London.—Conversations between British representatives and delegates from the Dominions concerning the United Kingdom's meat imports were resumed at the Dominions office and it is understood the Britons submitted a memorandum which will form the basis of future discussions.

The memorandum, it was learned, has been cabled overseas to the governments of the various Dominions for their observation. Meanwhile discussion on the question, of vital significance to British farmers as well as to the Dominions, has been adjourned for at least a fortnight.

Canada and the other Dominions were represented either by the high commissioners or their representatives. Walter Elliott, minister of agriculture, and J. H. Thomas, Dominion secretary, with other British government officials were also present.

WHEAT PRICES TO BE PEGGED FROM NOV. 1ST

Winnipeg.—Effective Nov. 1, wheat prices will be "pegged" at 75 cents a bushel for the December future and 80 cents a bushel for the May future, it was announced here by the Winnipeg Grain Exchange.

The pegging of the price, on a Fort William basis, was made by the grain exchange at the request of the federal government. John I. McFarland, general manager of the central selling agency of the Canadian Wheat Pools, declared the renewal of outside selling recently complained of had caused the pegging.

Text of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange statement follows:

"The government has requested that minimum price be set on May and December wheat contracts of 80 cents and 75 cents respectively. Fort William basis, these to take effect November 1, and the government wheat agency to take hedges on grain purchases. The council of the exchange has acted in accordance with this request."

Duration of the pegged price was not set. Last year, from August 15 to September 14, a pegged price of 70 cents a bushel on the October future was in effect. The October future for this year terminated Wednesday and only the December and May futures will appear on the board to-day, with the July future being added later.

The peg keeps the December option price at the level of the market's close Wednesday, 75 cents a bushel. A gain of 1/4 of a cent will be necessary in the May future, which closed at 79 1/2 cents a bushel.

Reference in the grain exchange's official statement that the government agency would take up hedges on grain purchases was interpreted as assurance a market would be provided for the Western Canadian farmers' wheat. It was also done to enable elevator companies to function in a normal way in the Dominion.

The announcement came from the exchange president, Roy W. Milner, after an emergency meeting of the council.

Mr. McFarland, informed of the council's action, said immediate government action had been found necessary because of resumption of heavy selling in the Winnipeg pit by interests outside the Dominion.

A month ago, Mr. McFarland, who conducts federal government stabilization operations in the Winnipeg pit, made the charge that outside influence was directed at cutting down Winnipeg wheat prices. Two days ago he recommended to the federal government that control and restriction of the Winnipeg pit operations be made effective. He also declared government stabilization efforts would continue.

"There is evidence that the Winnipeg market is still the target of interest foreign to the wheat producer of Western Canada," said Mr. McFarland in commenting on the exchange council's action. "While the government has in mind certain restrictions that will prevent operations witnessed the past few months, it will take some little time to put these into effect.

"In the meantime, the government is not prepared to stand by and watch the demoralization of the Canadian farmer's market by interests outside the Dominion, and has therefore asked the officials of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange to 'peg' prices on such time as regulatory action can be taken."

LABOR MAKES HEAVY GAINS IN BRITISH VOTING

London.—Labor registered sweeping gains in returns available here from municipal elections held all over England. The heaviest losses were suffered by the Conservatives.

The results were watched with keen interest because the elections are regarded as an unusually important test of public opinion in view of the probability of a general election next year.

The results in London district showed a strong swing to the Labor side but in many municipalities in that district the turnover still left the municipal reform party ahead. The municipal reform candidates are broadly classified as Conservatives.

With 98 results complete throughout England, the results showed Labor had made 203 gains against eight losses; the Conservatives had gained 18 seats against 109 losses; the Liberals had gained four and lost 34 and Independents had gained five and lost 74.

While results in 11 London boroughs still to come, the result in London district showed Labor had gained 227 seats and lost one; the municipal reform (Conservative) group had lost 210 and gained but one was independent and others had lost.

Battersea was one London district where the Laborites captured enough seats to turn a municipal reform majority into a Labor majority.

Voting in London was watched particularly because there it was the first municipal voting since the general elections of 1931. In that area 28 boroughs vote only once every three years. London elections were compulsory but elsewhere only one-third of the council membership was to be decided.

A National Emergency

Churchill Warns Britain That Germany Is Re-Arming Rapidly

Woodford Green, England.—Winston Churchill warned Britain that Germany, re-arming "secretly, illegally and rapidly," will have "over-taken us before another year has passed" in "organized military machines alone."

"A reign of terror exists in Germany in order to keep the feverish and terrible preparations they are making," the former chancellor of the exchequer told his constituency.

"Vice-premier Stanley Baldwin has said 'Our frontiers are the Rhine.' 'Can we be sure that the men in control in Germany will not reply to that: 'Our targets are the Thames?'"

A national emergency is approaching, Churchill said, as he attacked the National government for what he said was its lagardness in completing the program for air defence.

Churchill declared the approaching emergency must be faced "with energy and courage if a safe, coherent and peace-keeping policy is to be found."

King Boris Drives Train

Takes Place Of Engineer Who Was Seriously Burned

Sofia, Bulgaria.—King Boris risked his life to save an engineer from death in his burning locomotive, and then himself took the throttle to bring the train more than 100 miles to Varna.

The king left his special car, attached to the train, near Strazica when fire broke out in the coal tender. Noticing the engineer's clothes were aflame, he climbed into the cab and pulled the burning garments from the man's body.

After arranging for medical care for the seriously injured engineer, Boris took the driver's place and drove the locomotive the rest of the way into Varna.

Rocket Mail Tested

Trieste, Italy.—A steel tube was rocketed from the side of a mountain near here, and landed undamaged in a valley 2 1/2 miles away, with a cargo of 1,600 letters. The demonstration, testing a speedy means of transporting mail between nearby points, was termed a success by its inventor, Gerard Zueher.

New German Stamps

Berlin.—The reich government announced that a series of postage stamps will be issued depicting "the peaceful activities of the German people." The stamps, which will be of five to seven pfennigs in value, will be issued early in the year and the proceeds devoted to charity.

POPPY DAY

The symbolism of the Poppy, the sorrowful appropriateness of its blood-red bloom, takes a deeper significance with each succeeding year. The Great War is passing almost into legend; a generation is bequeathed the duty of carrying into the years that have yet to come the work and the ideals of those whom the Poppy commemorates.

Canada has adopted the Poppy as a symbol because of the 60,000 graves in France and Belgium in which lie the dead of the preceding generation, because of the 170,000 Canadians to whom the conflict brought disablement of one kind or another. The crosses in the cemeteries of Flanders are garlanded with poppies—dolorous emblems of a nation's youth consumed in the "Wrath-red forge of War".

On Poppy Day this Dominion pauses, in its normal activities to recall the sacrifices of its young men, to pay tribute to their heroism, their hardihood and the uncompensated fortitude with which they bore their privations and sufferings. At the same time, Canada strives to liquidate in some small measure, an obligation to these disabled men employed in the Veterans workshops of the country, whose only means of livelihood is the making of these simple emblems.

The wide ramifications of the great Canadian Legion, with its tens of thousands of workers on Poppy Day, take care of the distribution of these poppies throughout Canada. There is thus ensured to their disabled comrades in these Veterans shops a loyal performance of a sorrowful, yet praiseworthy task.

All Canadians of every age and degree should wear a symbol on Poppy Day, for that is surely a day of re-consecration and of re-dedication to the work on hand of continuing the structure of civilization where the workers of a previous generation left off.

THE BENNETT-STEVENS BRAWL

It took Premier Bennett and the Hon. Harry Stevens about twenty-five columns to tell what they thought of each other. Summing it all up, Stevens used a lot of flowery language to tell the premier he thought he was a "swell-headed, egotistical humbug," who was putting in too much time thinking of international affairs, and with no time whatever for the welfare of the common herd of Canadians. And the premier very nicely informed the Hon. Harry Stevens that he considered him untruthful—or what we would call a "liar."

To the ordinary "westerner," it would appear the Tory Party simply will not tolerate any of its members catering to the needs of 96 per cent of the Canadian people. Let one of its party step on the toes of the Exalted 4 per cent, and watch the fireworks.

Mr. Stevens was the right man in the right place. He just imagined he was a Tory. His parents probably were, and so he thought he should be, too. Since he has found out what it is all about, he is just Tory in name only.

It might be just possible that the Bennett-Stevens row is a little aside show put on to take the public's attention away from the government's inefficiency.

It would be very important to know just what Jimmie Thomas over in England thinks about this puppy school-boy stuff.—Stavely Advertiser.

ONE JURY'S VERDICT

Speaking of verdicts—and who isn't these days? Here's a story which is told about the late chief justice, later Premier A. L. Sifton, of Alberta.

He was known as a terror by all who were criminally inclined, and at times after sessions of his court at Macleod it was necessary to put on an extra passenger coach to carry the convicted cattle rustlers and horse thieves to Prince Albert pen. But sometimes justice got a bit off the track in his court. So it happened one day that a prisoner had been before him, and six good men and true, comprising the jury, on a cattle rustling charge—if our story is correct. Having heard the evidence, the chief justice summed up, and he made it very plain to the jury what verdict he thought should be brought down. The jury retired and, on coming back to the courtroom, delivered their "Not Guilty."

The chief justice sat up and leaned forward. He had the clerk of the court read the charge upon which the prisoner was being tried. "And what is the jury's finding?" he asked for a second time.

"Not guilty," said the foreman. Turning to the sheriff, Mr. Sifton said: "Set the guilty man free."

Probably it happened at Macleod, which was the scene of more Sifton court stories than any other place in this province.—Ex.

BROKER: ORIGINALLY, A RETAIL VENDOR OF WINE

The modern broker who engages in large scale financial operations takes his name from a humble origin. Broker (spelled in Middle English brocure) appears to be derived from Old French broquier or brokier, dialect for brochier, "a broker," "one who broaches or taps" a cask to draw off the liquor. The modern verb broach, besides meaning "to tap" a cask, is used in a figurative sense of "to open," as in "the subject was broached." So the original broker was a retail vendor of wine, and later, any small retailer, middleman, peddler, or agent in general, as a pawnbroker. More dignified commodities, such as stocks and bonds, have in modern times dignified the broker and his occupation.

EDITORS KNOW EVERYTHING

Some people, at least, think so. Someone wrote Editor Charlie Clark, of the High River Times:

"Dear Sir: In a chapter from St. Paul, often read at burial services, is this verse: 'The sting of death is sin, and the strength of sin is the law.' Seeing that editors know everything, perhaps you can tell me what is meant by the words, 'the strength of sin is the law.'"

Well, Charlie gave it up, and now he has called in the whole of the High River Ministerial Association to help him out. Really, some people expect too much, even from editors.—Ex.

Newfoundland has decided to waive the duty on flour, which was formerly 5 1/2 cents per barrel. To encourage purchase of motor cars, the duty is slashed 35 per cent, while licenses formerly averaging about $20 are reduced to $10. The tax on gasoline is increased two cents per gallon, to make taxation proportional to road usage.

One very cold day last winter, McMurphy met a friend of French origin. He spoke to him several times and got no response. Finally he said: "Say, what's wrong with you? Have you lost your tongue?" The Frenchman's hands came from his pockets and his arms swung wildly from his shoulders as he exclaimed: "You crazy! You tink I freeze my two hands to talk to you!"

The minister noticed a woman pushing a pram up a steep hill and volunteered his assistance, "which was gratefully accepted. Then he had pushed the pram to the top of the hill he said: "No thanks at all. Delighted to help you—but as a little reward, may I kiss the baby?" "Bless you, sir," said the woman, "it isn't a baby; it's a couple of dozen of beer."

Salesman: "I'm a representative of the Blivver Motor Car Company. I am here simply to remind you that we stand back of every car we sell." Customer: "Ready to push it in case the motor dies, eh?"

BUDGET: FROM A LITTLE LEATHER BAG

In this age when nations, corporations, and families all have their budgets, it is interesting to trace the word back to its origin. The Romans had a word, bulga, which the old French borrowed as bouge, boge, meaning "leather bag." The diminutive form was bougette, "bag," "wallet." From this source, through the middle English form boget, bouget, is derived our own word budget. The earliest meaning of budget was "a pouch or wallet, especially of leather," which suggests along with its other possible uses, a moneybag or purse. This meaning has become obsolete and budget has adapted itself to the more important affairs of modern finance.

Bright Stories about Wine
BEFORE THE BEGINNING OF MAN

Perhaps the extravagant claims that have been put forward from time to time by disciples for the age of their whistles are founded on the fact that the origin of making wine is lost in the mists of antiquity. One can only guess at the aeons that may have elapsed between the time the grape was grown, and its real purpose on earth discovered. The vine is known to have existed in the tertiary period, and since that time has survived all great natural catastrophes and upheavals.

Those of us who believe in a great plan or purpose into which the puny, temporal affairs of man are divinely fitted must see a significance in this fact. Whatever else was permitted to perish, the vine was not. The fossil-remains of the vine which have been excavated show a shrub with many large leaves, and grapes in small irregular clusters which must have been vicious and acid to the taste.

The improvement of the vine came probably by accident. A branch would have been broken off, and it would be noticed that the fruit that followed was better than before. Thus was the art of pruning born.

That the vine, the grape and the purpose of the grape were known long before the beginning of written history is proved from the fact that the first reference we have to them is to be found in Genesis IX, 20, 21. It reads: "And Noah began to be a husbandman, and he planted a vineyard. . . . And he drank of the wine and was drunken." Evidently the discovery of fermentation had been made long before Noah's lapse, which, however, as the context will show, was responsible for our presence on earth to-day.

The Persians have a legend which is as near the truth as we are ever likely to arrive. It tells of the great Jamshood who had been accustomed to grape juice when freshly expressed. He thought it would be a fine idea to gather quite a stock of it to tide him over the long months when the vine was not bearing. So he collected a quantity of grape juice and stored it in jars. One day, a few weeks later, he took a considerable slug and was almost immediately conscious of strange and painful proceedings in his stomach. The wine, in fact, was in process of fermentation and was foul and nauseous.

Why he didn't empty the jars, we do not know. It was lucky he didn't. He merely labelled them "Poison." Then a few weeks later one of his wives felt despondent and, seeing the convenient poison, took a copious draught. She was surprised. She took another and discovered that her troubles seemed to have miraculously disappeared. She hurried to the king with the glad tidings; and so was discovered, the old chronicles tell us, the great law of fermentation.

AFTERMATH

"If Ye Break Faith... We Shall Not Sleep!"

Over the crimsoned field where poppies blow
A grey mist hovers like a changing wrath;
And voices bring a cry from out the mist,

"We sleep not, Comrades; do ye keep the faith!"

They gave their lives to make a better world.

Safe for the old, the helpless and the young—

Safe for that wider brotherhood of man

What of that victory so dearly wring?

What is this foe with whom we keep the quarrel?

What is this conflict that we must suppress?

What but the idol in the market-place,
The symbol of a nation's selfishness.

Is this remembering, that day by day
They who were with "them" falter to our doors—

Begging their humble stint of daily bread,

The heroes—nay, the victims of our wars!

That day by day they toil the weary roads,

While little children starve, and women sigh;

Our granaries overflow with golden grain!

"What say you, Comrades? Is the Torch held high?"

Far on Olympus, how the Gods must laugh!

"The larks still sing; the morning comes anon!"

We hoard the golden grain—and fling the chaff!

"The poppies flourish—but our rest is gone!"

AUSTRALIA IS PROSPEROUS

Winnipeg, Man.,—A budget surplus each year for the past three years, and taxation substantially reduced was the picture of financial conditions in the Australian Commonwealth brought to Winnipeg recently by Mr. Justice H. D. Macrossan, Brisbane, senior justice judge of the supreme court of Queensland, who is touring Canada.

"There are staid and sober governments throughout the Commonwealth," he said. The great recovery of the island continent he attributed in part to the encouragement given to prospecting, which has been marked, by increased mineral production, especially gold. In addition, the increased prices for last year's wool clip had added 30,000,000 pounds sterling to the general income. Australia, he added, is rich in all natural resources, except oil. Its vegetable products range all the way from tropic to temperate.

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

A dance will be held in the L.O.O.F. hall on Friday, November 16th, under auspices of the Cowley Girls' Club. A high-class orchestra will be in attendance.

Misses Helen and Jean Morrison are attending the teachers' convention at Lethbridge this week.

On Halloween night the young folks were out in full force and did the town. They enjoyed an exciting time, indulging in innocent pranks, with no real mischief being done.

The whist drive and dance, sponsored by the Cowley high school girls, and held in the school house on Friday night, was a huge success. While one room was occupied with young folks, who were indulging in a lively dance, another room, in gay humor, was given over to the older people, who were content at playing whist, at which prizes were won as follows:

ladies' first, Mrs. M. A. Murphy; consolation, Mrs. F. A. Tustian; gentlemen's first, Nelson Akew; consolation, Sandy Thompson. On this occasion, the rooms were decorated with Hallowe'en symbols, adding zest to the spirit of the evening. At midnight, two long tables were spread, which were filled twice in order to accommodate the crowd at luncheon. After expenses were met, the neat sum of fifteen dollars was realized, which will be added to the Christmas Tree fund.

Miss Nellie McWilliams is attending the teachers' convention at Lethbridge this week.

The Cowley Ladies' Bridge Club was entertained by Mrs. Clara Cleland at her home on Tuesday night. Miss Nellie McWilliams and Mrs. Isabel Christie were the lucky prize winners.

BELLEVUE HAPPENINGS

Mrs. F. Uley held a bridge luncheon on Wednesday last.

Mrs. W. Cousins held her at-home reception last Wednesday.

Miss Dorothy Turner left Friday last to visit for a few days in Cranbrook.

Misses Annie Bazan, Alice Marquand and Angelina Hovan returned Friday from Cranbrook, where they have been employed.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Hallworth are rejoicing over the arrival of a son.

The remains of the late Donald Robert McLean, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McLean, were laid to rest in the local cemetery on Friday afternoon, with Rev. Mr. Upton officiating. Pallbearers were: Fred and Sam Radford, John Cary and James Connors. Sympathy of the community is extended to Mr. and Mrs. McLean and family.

Mrs. G. Cousins, of Penttice, B. C., is visiting here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. McLean.

Mrs. A. May, who had been visiting here with her daughter, Mrs. J. Kerr, junior, returned to Medicine Hat on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. McEachern, accompanied by Mrs. Delicate, left Wednesday to attend the teachers' convention at Lethbridge.

J. H. McLean, accompanied by his brother George, of Nelson, left by car Wednesday to attend the funeral of their mother, who passed away at Red Deer on Tuesday. The sympathy of the community is extended to them in their bereavement.

The Bellevue teaching staff are attending the convention at Lethbridge.

SAVES PARKING FINES

Ever find a traffic ticket on the windshield when you come out of the picture show? There will be less of that if motorists will accept the aid of a scientist who has come to their aid with an "electric eye" which carefully measures the amount of light and at sunset automatically switches on parking lights. It cannot be fooled by clouds and always keeps a few minutes ahead of darkness. The device, which was demonstrated at a recent conference of illumination experts, can also be applied to street lights and navigation signals.

DEATH OF "SANDY" McDougall

"Sandy" McDougall, well known lumberman and early Fernie pioneer, died at Shere, B.C., on October 20th. Deceased, who was in his ninetieth year, was born at Alexandria in Gengary county. He spent his early years as a lumberman on the Ottawa river, coming to Fernie in 1897, where he established a lumber business, later to be known as the Fernie Lumber Company.

He was predeceased by his wife, who passed away three years ago, and is survived by two daughters, Miss Fairly, who resided with him at Shere, and Mrs. Audrey Stewart, of Ottawa; a son, John, who is in the lumber business at Wakefield, Alta.; a sister, Mrs. Devine, of Ottawa, and a brother, Charles, of Vancouver.

Deceased had only been ill a few days, having just returned from Edmonton, where he had spent the last few years.—Fernie Free Press.

ALBERTA MEN ARE HONORED

Ottawa, Nov. 1.—The commandery in Canada of the Grand Priory in the British Realm of the Order of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem has been established in Canada with the Governor-General as knight commander.

Following the first meeting of the commandery chapter today, an investiture was held and among those honored were: John Mills Innie, of Edmonton, who was made commander of the order, while O.E.S. Whiteside, of Coleman, Major R. B. C. Thompson, Lethbridge, and E. H. Starr, of Calgary, were made serving brothers.

Miss Jane Megarry, of Carleton, was decorated as a serving sister.

Mr. Starr, long prominent in first aid work in Calgary, was unable to attend the investiture, due to pressure of business. His decoration will be sent to him. Mr. Starr has been informed. Mr. Whiteside was also unable to attend.

MOUNTAIN CLIMBER HAS

EYE ON CROWS' NEST MY.

While some people have a flair for delving great depths into mother earth to find what's there, others prefer to climb as high as they can on the outside, just to see what they can see—as the bear said when he came over the mountain.

Atlee Bridges, Cranbrook merchant, belongs to the latter class. Down at Blairmore last Saturday, attending the musical festival, it occurred to him that the scaling of Crow's Nest mountain would be the next objective for him and his fellow members of the Cranbrook Outdoor Club. So he collected all the data he could from the most reliable sources available. For instance, he learned that Crow's Nest mountain is fifteen miles from Blairmore and that the climb to the top can be made in less than three hours; also that its height is approximately 10,000 feet, or some 750 feet higher than Fisher Peak. The mountain, as viewed from Blairmore, presents a rugged precipitous face, but those in the know say the ascent can be made with little difficulty from the rear, and with probably a great deal less hardship than is encountered in scaling Fisher Peak.

Anyhow, next summer some time, when the Outdoor Club start their season's exploits, Atlee will see to it that the most famous peak in the Pass will be jotted down on the programme.

BUTCHER: A SLAUGHTERER OF GOATS

Modern diets have given the butcher a much more varied function than that which originally was his. What the butcher was originally we can find by tracing the word back to its source. Butcher comes from middle English bocher, bocher, which was borrowed from old French bocher. The old French bocher is a derivative of old French boc, "a buck goat." The original meaning of bocher was therefore "a slaughterer of buck goats."

CRANBROOK COURIER'S BOOST

FOR PASS MUSICAL FESTIVAL

Depression or no depression, the tenth annual Crow's Nest Pass Musical Festival, held at Blairmore, reached a higher goal this year than ever before attained. It is said that even the city of Calgary has never held a musical festival to equal it. With some 600 participants, all the three days were crowded with competitions full of interest. It was a great boost for the festival movement, and furnished a real three-day carnival for Blairmore. Not in a year has such crowds been seen on the streets of the town, and hotels and restaurants did a capacity business. The weather was perfect.

Cranbrook and Kimberley people turned out in good numbers, and there were close to 200 people from this end of the district. While arrangements were not completed for the special train until two days previous, this part of the scheme of getting there and back was carried out successfully.

The special train of four coaches and a baggage car pulled out of the Cranbrook station sharp at 7.30 with L. Owen as engineer and R. A. McBurney as conductor. Assistant Superintendent A. J. Ironside went along, as did also A. B. D. Campbell, of Calgary, travelling passenger agent for the C.P.R. The railway company must be commended for the excellent accommodation and service provided. The coaches were spick and span and well heated, and the train crew and officials most courteous. On the return trip, the special left Blairmore sharp at midnight, and made the run to Cranbrook in slightly less than four hours. It was a jolly crowd, both going and coming. Besides those carried on the special, some made the trip on the regular passenger train and the members of the Kimberley District band made the journey in one of the Star Stage buses, driven by Don Reevie.—Cranbrook Courier.

RICH MINERAL AREAS

SOUGHT IN ANNEXATION

Edmonton, Nov. 2.—Advocating a policy which would enlarge the province of Alberta to more than double its present size by taking in all that part of the Northwest Territories which lies west of the northern extension of the fourth meridian to Coronation Gulf in the Arctic Ocean, and east of the Yukon boundary, and which would bring into the confines of the province one of the most highly mineralized areas in the world, W. R. Howson, M.L.A., Liberal leader in Alberta, disclosed the fact that this policy would be one of the features of the Liberal platform in the forthcoming provincial election.

The present area of Alberta is 255,285 square miles, made up of 161,872,000 acres of land and 1,070,400 acres of water. The carrying out of the Liberal leader's policy would much more than double this and would bring into the province of Alberta, not only about one-third of Lake Athabasca, where sensational gold strikes have recently been made, but all of Great Slave Lake, Great Bear Lake, and the Mackenzie River basin and delta, with all the tremendous natural resources which are now known to exist in these areas. It would include the Fort Norman oil field and the great fur-bearing and fishing areas of the north.

New Aid in Preventing Colds
Leads to Plan for Better
Control of Colds

PLAN EASY TO FOLLOW

Years ago, Vicks VapoRub introduced the modern method of treating colds. Now, Vicks Chemists have developed the ideal companion to VapoRub—Vicks Va-tro-nol—the new aid in preventing colds.

These two preparations, together with a few simple rules of health, form the unique Vicks Plan for Better Control of Colds. The helpfulness of Vicks Plan in reducing the number, duration and dangers of colds has been clinically tested by practicing physicians. (The Plan is fully explained in each Vicks package.) Here, briefly, is how Vicks Plan works.

To Help Prevent Colds
Watch yourself and children after exposure to any condition apt to be followed by a cold—such as: Contact with others having active colds; crowded public places, stuffy ill-ventilated rooms—sudden changes in temperature, wet or cold, or unaccustomed exposures—excesses in living which lower resistance, such as over-eating, smoking, or drinking after a hard day when you are overtired.

THE CHRISTIAN CITIZEN

Golden text: "All they that take the sword shall perish with the sword." Matthew 26:52.
Lesson: Galatians 5:13-26.
Devotional reading: Micah 4:1-5.

Explanations And Comments

Live at Peace With One Another, verses 13-15. The people to whom Paul wrote this letter lived in Galatia, the Roman province which extended north and south across the central plateau of Asia Minor. In Southern Galatia were the cities where Paul founded churches on his second missionary journey—Antioch in Pisidia, Iconium, Lystra and Derbe. He visited Galatia again on his third missionary journey, and two or three years later wrote this letter.

In the beginning of the fifth chapter, Paul tells his readers that Christ sets them free from the bondage of the old law, and urges them to hold fast their freedom. Then in our lesson text he tells them not to err in thinking that freedom from the requirements of the law means disobedience to its spirit, which is that of love to others. "To men who have been accustomed to think of law as the only obstacle to free self-indulgence, or to those who have not been accustomed to high ethical standards, freedom from the law was easily taken to mean that for the Christian there is nothing to stand in the way of the unrestrained indulgence of his own impulses. Of this danger Paul is well aware (Rom. 6:1; Phil. 3:17; Col. 3:2), and beginning with the verse he addresses himself vigorously to meeting and arresting it."

Brothers, wrote Paul, you are free from the law, but Christian liberty does not mean that you can do as you please. Liberty and license are not synonymous. Do not use your freedom as a license for indulging your lower impulses, but live in accordance with the law of love. "Flesh" is used here for "that element of man's nature which is opposed to goodness and makes for evil. It signifies the entire potency of sin. Through loving service for others, continued Paul, you fulfil the whole divine law, which is, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

A Christian man is the most free lord of all, and subject to none; a Christian man is the most dutiful servant of all, and subject to all. (Martin Luther).

Then, remembering that the Galatians were prone to quarrel, Paul adds, "But if ye bite and devour one another (just toward one another like dogs or wild beasts), beware lest you destroy one another (one another's spiritual life)."

No man resolved to make the most of himself can spare the time for personal contention. Still less can he afford to take all the consequences, including the vitiation of his soul, and the loss of self-control."

GLASS

(By Gordon H. Guest, M.A.)

Historians tell us that the Egyptians discovered how to make glass. The production of glass on a large scale started in Egypt about 1370 B.C. Alkali (sodium carbonate) was melted with crushed quartz, limestone, and copper compounds in crucibles to give a blue glass. Glass made in Egypt was shipped to all parts of the Roman Empire.

Science has shown the modern manufacturer how to produce many new and useful kinds of glass. Ordinary glass, which is composed of silica, lime and sand cracks readily when suddenly heated or cooled. If common glass is heated strongly, and then plunged into cold water without being fractured.

Optical glass for lenses of all kinds is produced by adding lead oxide to the glass mixture. Optical glass must be free from all color-producing materials and must also be free from very small air bubbles or stringy areas. Cheap bottles of glasses are made from glass very rich in lead (pyrex), and the glass of which cut-glass vessels is made is of this same kind but it contains less lead.

Recently a plate glass has been produced in England which has special strength and toughness. The glass does not splinter when broken, but forms small comparatively harmless fragments. This toughened glass is about five times as strong as ordinary plate glass.

"Old Matt", a familiar character in London, who is estimated to have opened the doors of more than 2,000,000 private cars, taxicabs and hansom cabs, had died in that city, aged 74. His name was Walter Matthews, and for thirty years he was the carriage attendant outside Simpson's in the Strand. In his youth he was a noted boxer, and later went to New York as a butler. Since returning to London he declined several offers to return to the United States.

English Artist Uses Wood For Canvas And Picture

At Southampton lives one of the most unusual artists in the world—a carpenter who "paints" pictures with pieces of wood. He uses three-ply wood for a canvas and in one of his pictures—showing a tree in leaf—nearly 3,000 pieces of wood were used. He obtains light and shade effects by selecting the right grain markings. It is impossible to detect joins when the pictures are finished. They are coated with a clear white polish and framed in ebony. Rare and expensive woods from all over the world go to the making of these unique pictures. Some woods are so brittle that they must be cut with great care before being glued into position. When the Queen admired six of the pictures at an exhibition in London she was informed they had taken four years to complete.

THE TENDERFOOT

By

GEORGE B. RODNEY

Author of "The Coronado Trail," "The Canyon Trail," etc.

SYNOPSIS

"You've fallen near to a half-share in plenty of trouble," the lawyer told Gerald Keene. "The Broken Spur has been systematically looting the ranch, and I'd like to see you go to see what was happening for himself—not as Gerald Keene, half owner of the Hour-Glass Ranch, but as Duro Stone, tenderfoot in a Montgomery Ward wilderness outfit. Dad Kane, desert rat and luckless prospector, is now returning to tell Dustin and Spike Goddard, owners of the Broken Spur ranch, who had grubstaked him, of his discovery of a rich gold mine and the prospect of owning the mine. Spike Goddard and Sam Dustin, fearing the old prospector may tell others the things he has seen as to the branding of Carr's cattle, plot to get him to show them the location of the mine and then to kill him. (Now Go On With The Story)

Dustin swung about to face a gray little figure that stiffened at sight of him. Sam Peters had been cashier of the Seco Bank for more than thirty years. Scotch by descent and cautious by nature, only once had he ventured to extend his activities beyond Seco. He was like Kipling's mukrat that all his life tried to muster courage to run to the middle of the floor. Peters mustered that courage once . . . and Dustin caught him with a loan of five thousand dollars on his house. That loan saved Peters his bank job but it made him the bond-slave of Sam Dustin.

"Just a moment, Peters. . . . Dustin drew him aside. . . . "How much money does old man Carr owe the bank? I've got to know!"

"The bank?" Peters quavered. "He don't owe the bank at all, Mr. Dustin. He did owe the bank but old man Pegram took it up. It's a note and Mr. Pegram's wonderin' right now what to do with it. He's lost a lot of money and needs cash. . . .

"How much is the note for?"

"Well . . . Old Carr hasn't paid any interest on it for a year. It's about twelve thousand dollars right now. And I'll tell you more. . . . Old man Pegram better let go all holds on it just as soon as he can. Old Carr's in a bad way."

Dustin's heart gave a great jump. This was better than he dared hope. He stared hard at the little figure before him.

"I've got a five thousand dollar note of yours, Peters," he said. "It's secured by this house and lot, eh?"

"Yes, sir. That's so. . . . Something hard in his throat seemed to choke the little gray cashier.

"That note of yours is due next week. I want that note of Carr's that Pegram's got. See?"

"I . . . sir . . . I swear I don't see how I can fix it. It's Mr. Pegram's private business. I . . ."

More than ever did Sam Peters regret that accursed flyer in wheat that was to remove him and his old wife from any danger of poverty. He made one final wriggle for escape.

"As matters stand, I don't see how it can help you to own a half share of the Hour-Glass ranch," he said.

"Half of it! You're a plain fool, Peters. I'll own the whole place; Soda Springs and all," he added. "Old man Carr owns the Hour-Glass, don't he?"

"He owns half of it," said Peters.

"That's all. When old man Peter Vinton died, he left the Hour-Glass half to Joe Carr, his old partner, and half to his sister's son, one Gerald Keene. When Carr wanted to borrow on his half of the place, we had to look up the will. That's how I know I saw the will. It says that if either Carr or Keene dies, his half goes to the survivor. . . .

"For the love of God! . . . Dustin was breathless. . . . "Say that again."

Peters said it again and Dustin, sure that he had not misunderstood, let go a smoke-screen of profanity. It was not the sordid profanity of good-nature but the vitriolic overflow of one who fears he has been hurt and who is not sure of the extent of the injury. In one brief, headlong moment the failure of his plans seemed sure. If Gerald Keene, the nephew of old Peter Vinton, owned half the Hour-Glass then he, Sam Dustin, even if he succeeded in ousting Joe Carr, was only getting a new partner whom he did not even know.

He sized old Peters and whirled him about in the moonlight to face him. There was but one thing to be done. Too much depended on what old Kane knew! That miserable old desert-rat could send him and Spike to jail for a suit a lifetime and Joe Carr could keep him out of a fortune. The solution came in a sudden storm of ill-considered impulse.

"If you want to keep a roof over your old wife's head," he snarled, "you buy for me every scrap of paper that old Carr has signed, want to own the half-share of the Hour-Glass. Get me?"

Peters gaped helplessly at him.

"I mean what I say, you old fool. Where can I find this man Gerald Keene? The man who owns the other half of the Hour-Glass?"

"I don't know, Mr. Dustin. I swear I don't. Nobody knows. Even Mr. Carr don't know. He's been tryin' to find him through Mr. Burley of the Drovers Bank in Calo but he wrote us that he was handling Mr. Keene's business and that Mr. Keene was travelling somewhere and couldn't be reached just now."

Dustin grunted disbelief but he could do nothing at present. He had plenty of money in the bank and Peters knew it. There was no question of the validity of the check that Dustin wrote at the hotel desk and passed to the gray-faced little cashier who took it shakily. He pouted it, refused a cigar and headed for the bank feeling like a condemned criminal who has received notice of an unexpected reprieve.

"I'm sorry for old Carr," he muttered; "but I can't help it. I can't see Mame go to the Poorhouse and that's what'll happen if Dustin nips out that note. Oh, hell! What's the use kickin'! But I wish I could put a spoke in Dustin's wheel. . . ."

He saw Pegram at the bank who was only too glad to get rid of Carr's note for Dustin's check and he turned that over to Dustin who promptly headed back for the Broken Spur. He found Spike anxiously awaiting him and he was drawn into the office by a nod from his partner.

"What luck, Sam?"

"The best in the world except for one thing. I found out that old Carr does not own all the Hour-Glass. He owns half of it. The other half belongs to one Gerald Keene, nephew of old Peter Vinton. If either Carr or Keene dies, the other gets the whole place. . . .

"Well?" said Spike who saw no further than the end of his nose.

"You call it well, do you? Damned if I do. I can't get at this man Keene. No one seems to know his address. If I could find him, I'd offer to buy his share of the Hour-Glass. One thing is sure now, though. We've simply got to find out from old Dad Kane the exact place where he located that ore."

"I hope you can shut his damned mouth," said Spike passionately. "Ed Raynor, the tax collector, was here for grub and old man Kane began shootin' off his face. He was stringin' Gay and Corse about what he seen 'em doing up in the hills. I headed him off in time and I don't think Raynor caught on to what he was sayin'. . . . What you got to do?"

do?" he asked sharply for Dustin, with a sharp little oath, was heading for the bank-house.

Old Dad Kane, standing just inside the door, was suddenly snatched off his feet and was sent spinning against the wall. He turned like a fish and a rusty old six-gun, a cap and ball affair, was thrust under Dustin's nose.

"You keep yore hands where they're used to bein'!" In other men's pockets, snapped the old prospector. "What you want? Hey?"

"To shut your fool head and to keep you from lettin' all the world in on what you found. You damned old fool! Don't you know that one word from Ed Raynor'll send a hundred men up Red Water? Come into the house. I want to talk to you."

Wholly angry, sweating isochate threats at every pore, Kane followed Dustin into the office. Once in the room Dustin turned on him:

"Look here, Dad. . . . His very nose was placating for he had time to sneeze. "It's all my fault. I just couldn't stand seein' our one chance of a fortune go glimmerin' just because you talk too damned much. I don't know just what you said but I do know that after a long time in the hills most men's jaws relax. You mustn't give any one even a hint that you found pay-dirt in the hills. If you do, we're busted. You know well enough that one word of gold in Red Water will start a stampede up there. Where'll we be then?"

North Pole Controversy

Claim Dr. Cook Came As Close To Pole As Admiral Peary

The claims of Dr. Frederick A. Cook to discovery of the North Pole were created by J. Gordon Hayes, Polar historian, with as much accuracy as those of Admiral Robert E. Peary.

In his book, "The Conquest of the North Pole," published recently, Hayes said many of Cook's statements "may be accepted as genuine and truthful."

Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd and Floyd Bennett were said by Hayes to have been the first persons actually to reach the Pole.

"Admiral Peary," Hayes said, "never was within 50 or more miles of the North Pole. There have been many critics of Peary's claim on both sides of the Atlantic, and all disinterested inquirers have come to the same conclusion—that he didn't reach the Pole; by this it may be understood he never was within 50 or more miles of its position."

Hayes submits Dr. Cook in 1908 "probably reached at least as high a latitude as that attained by Admiral Peary the following year; that Cook's statements except in relation to his attainment of the North Pole and possibly his glacial island, may be accepted as substantially genuine, truthful and accurate."

Life moves in cycles and all seeming change is but the glitter of the turning wheel. For there is no new thing and nothing strange Does the long passage of the years reveal.

Little Helps For This Week

"He that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God whom he hath not seen?" 1 John 4:20.

Old friends, old scenes, will lover-lier be, As moats of heaven in each we see; Some softening gleam of love and prayer Shall dawn on every cross and care. —J. Keble.

It requires far more of the constraining love of Christ to love our cousins and neighbors of the heavenly family; than to feel warm to our suffering brothers in Tucson or Madeira. To love the whole Church is one thing; to love, that is to delight in the graces and veil the defects, of the person who misanderstood us and opposed our plans yesterday, whose peculiar infirmities grate on our most sensitive feelings, or whose natural faults are precisely those from which our natural character most revolts, is quite another.

A Temple there has been upon earth, a spiritual Temple made up of living souls, a Temple with God in its light and Christ for its high priest, with wings of angels for its arches, with saints and teachers for its pillars, and with worshippers for its pavement. Wherever there is Faith and Love this Temple is—J. H. Newman.

Some men deem the 30-minute sermon too long. So they substitute the 1152-column Sunday paper.

And once baking powder had a large sale than face powder.
